

SECT. HUGHES LAUDS ACTION OF PRESIDENT

Says Handling of Mexican Revolt Greatest Aid in Our Power, in Accord With Tradition, to World Peace

DISCUSSES TREATY

Claims New Pact With British on Liquor Seizures Constitutional—Will Assist in Enforcing Law

New York, Jan. 23.—The policies of the Coolidge administration in dealing with the Mexican revolutionary movement was described by Secretary Hughes in an address here tonight as "the greatest contribution directly within our power, and in accord with our established traditions and manifest interest, to the cause of world peace."

"This hemisphere should be the exemplar of peace," Mr. Hughes said, "and we look with confidence to the creation of a unity of sentiment of the American republics against resort to the brutal arbitrament of force in political controversies. To this end the United States gladly gives its cooperation."

Speaking under the title "Recent Questions and Negotiations" before a meeting of the Council on Foreign Relations, Mr. Hughes also outlined the purposes of the liquor treaty with Great Britain, signed today in Washington, and explained why the administration considered it necessary to give up extra territorial rights in negotiating the new treaty with Turkey.

The secretary's discussion of Mexico was prefaced by a recital of the steps that led up to the signing of the two claims conventions by which the Obregon government was accorded diplomatic recognition.

Not Revolt Against Oppression.

"After this happy result had been achieved," he continued, "and we were looking forward to a period of quiet and to opportunities of advancement to all peoples, suddenly there was an attempt to overthrow the established government of Mexico by violence. It is plain that the purpose of those engaged in this enterprise of arms is to establish a dictatorship by forcible measures the successor to President Obregon."

"It is not a revolution in the proper sense of the word, but a subversion of an oppressed people. It is a matter of personal politics. It is an effort to seize the presidency; it means a subversion of all constitutional and orderly procedure. The contestants, seeking to overthrow the established government, have taken possession of certain portions of the Mexican territory and either are claiming tribute from peaceful and legitimate American commerce or are attempting to obstruct and destroy it."

Mr. Hughes then touched on the request of the Mexican government to purchase arms and ammunition from the United States. To refuse, he said, would have been to turn a cold shoulder to the government recently restored to friendly relations and "would in fact have given powerful encouragement to those who were attempting to seize the reins of government by force."

By that course, he said, the Washington government would have "incurred a grave responsibility for consequent disturbances," while granting the request for arms involved "no question of intervention, no invasion of the sovereignty of Mexico."

Calls Liquor Treaty Constitutional.

He argued that the sale involved no principle from the principle involved in President Harding's policy as to the sale of arms, "which he said in no way precluded furnishing arms to aid in the putting down of insurrectionary attacks upon public order in a neighboring state whose peaceful development is especially important to us."

Referring to the question of the constitutionality of the new liquor treaty with Great Britain, the secretary said the administration had no intention to violate constitutional provisions.

"The purpose is to facilitate their enforcement," he said. "I know there are some who have expressed doubt whether such an international agreement can be made under our constitution. This doubt I do not entertain."

In negotiating the treaty with Turkey, he continued, the United States was faced with the necessity of giving up the long standing "capitulations" or the having no treaty at all and no protection for American interests in that country.

Charles Condemns Not Favor.

In these circumstances," he said, "the only practicable course was to negotiate a treaty with a full-power representative of the Turkish government. If such a treaty fails, it is a question of the situation of the country. It should not be forgotten that the only way to make the capitulations was to fight for them."

At the state in the constitutionality of the American position described by the secretary, the secretary said that the United States had been granted before the ratification of our treaty with Turkey had been given. This government at that time in securing it, this government made no better of any of its rights for this or any other country."

Mr. Hughes also touched briefly on the status of negotiations with the American position described by the secretary, the secretary said that the United States had been granted before the ratification of our treaty with Turkey had been given. This government at that time in securing it, this government made no better of any of its rights for this or any other country."

Radicals Displeased at Work at Miner's Confab

(By the Associated Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 23.—Cries of "let's go home" and "we're done," by radicals tonight ended the second day's session of the United Mine Workers convention in confusion. Radical delegates had mustered only 421 votes for their proposal to restate the deposed district officials of Nova Scotia. The vote was on their demand for a roll call, for which a 50 per cent vote is necessary, and it failed by about 150 votes.

President John L. Lewis had just concluded a defense of his action in dissolving the Nova Scotia charter, which had been commended in a report of the resolution's committee, read by Percy Tellow, international representative at Charleston, W. Va., and the vote was on a motion to censure in the committee's report. A host of division arose from administration supporters, at the small showing of hands held up by the radicals in demanding a counting.

While President Lewis passed the stage, still breathing hard from the exertion of his strenuous attack on the former Nova Scotia officials of District 26, Vice President Philip Murray took the chair. He pounded for order without effect for 10 minutes, while the radicals continued their threats of a walkout, and cries of "we'll remember you, Philip." After the announcement of the count of only 421 votes for a roll call, he recognized Secretary William Green for announcement, and then yelled that the convention was adjourned.

Still muttering implications, radical delegates left the hall. Resolutions from 18 different locals, demanding reinstatement of former President Dan Livingstone and Secretary James McLachlan, of Nova Scotia, were lumped in one and condemned in the committee's report.

STATE ENDS CASE IN ANDERSON TRIAL

Witness Says Dry Head Wrote Out Order for Transfer of Funds in League's Books

New York, Jan. 23.—William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, gave written instructions for the transfer on the organization's books of financial transactions which form the basis for the forgery charge against him, a jury before Supreme Court Justice Tompkins was told today.

The testimony was offered by William H. Potter, former assistant treasurer and head bookkeeper of the league, who identified a note instructing him to make the transfer as having been signed by the league head in March, 1921. Potter further testified that Anderson had "paid to himself" $3,775 in checks which he had ordered drawn against the salary account of O. Bennett Phillips, former fund solicitor for the league, who accused Anderson of having compelled him to "split" his collection commissions in excess of $10,000 annually.

Potter's sensational testimony from which he could not be shaken throughout a severe grilling by former Governor Whitman, chief of Anderson's counsel, closed the state's case. Whitman then made the customary motion that the jury be instructed to return a verdict of not guilty and that the forgery indictment be quashed. Both were denied by Justice Tompkins holding that he considered the prosecution to have made out a case against the defendant.

The defense will begin presentation of its case tomorrow.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS COMES TO FORE IN BOK HEARING

Washington, Jan. 23.—The League of Nations was brought prominently to the fore by Senator Reed, Missouri, a league irreconcilable, in the senate committee investigation today of the Bok peace award. The discussion resulted in sharp exchanges between Senator Reed and his Democratic colleague, Senator Caraway, Arkansas, and frequent protests from Miss Esther Everett Lape, member in charge of the policy committee of the award, and the only witness heard.

MOTHER DIES IN FUTILE ATTEMPT TO SAVE BABIES

Pottsville, Pa., Jan. 23.—A mother and her four daughters, ranging in age from one to 16, were burned to death in a fire at Middletown, five miles from here, early today, when the house was completely destroyed. Andrew Harvilla, the husband and father, was severely burned in attempting to rescue them.

MRS. HARDING BECOMES EDITOR OF MARION STAR

Marion, O., Jan. 23.—Mrs. Warren G. Harding, widow of the late President Harding, is to become an associate editor of the Marion Star and plans to write over her own signature for the newspaper which has been published for 25 years.

COUNTRY SCHOOL BOY WELL TRAINED

Long on Initiative, Something Lacking in Many City Lads, Says Colgate Head

Utica, Jan. 23.—Defense of the one-room country school and commendation for its product, the best trained scholars in the country, was voiced by Dr. George B. Cutten, president of Colgate university, in an address "The Farm as a Training School for Success" at the annual banquet of the New York Implement Dealers association tonight. Dr. Cutten stated superficial investigation showed that 80 per cent of the leaders of the nation today received their education in rural communities.

"Assisted by nature, a country lad gets an early training as well as physical development which should form a part of every child's education," said Dr. Cutten. "The farm boy learns to conserve his time, owing to the numerous chores about an average farm and probably nothing more valuable could be taught any boy, for when he assumes a position it is never a question of how little he can do, but where is he to find all the things to fill up his time. A generous employer can't invariably find them, and within a short time that boy becomes indispensable to the business."

"The farm boy is ever long on initiative, something lacking in many city lads," said the speaker.

"WHISTLING LYD" AT ROUSES POINT

Mining Dogteam Driver Had Be- come Lost in Mountains— Leaves for Canada

Rouses Point, Jan. 23.—"Whistling Lyd" Hutchinson, a woman dog team driver of Ashton, Ida., reached this city this afternoon from Ellensburg, Center and tonight with a team of seven huskies bound for Naperville, P. Q., on her way to Montreal. Miss Hutchinson, who left Port Henry yesterday, planning to halt at Plattsburg, lost her way in the mountains and finally reached Ellensburg, some 25 miles west of Plattsburg and near the Canadian border, this morning. After a short rest there, she planned to go to meet customs officials. To add to her experiences of the bitter cold night in the mountains along with her dogs, Miss Hutchinson said, a farmer's dog picked a quarrel with her team on the way to this city and promptly was killed by the huskies.

She planned to go from this city to Lacolle, P. Q., and from there to Naperville, where she would rest before going on to the winter sports carnival at Montreal.

RESERVES SWASEY DECISION

Albany, Jan. 23.—Supreme Court Justice William J. Stanley today reserved until Monday his decision as to whether there is sufficient evidence to grant holding Edward L. Swasey for the grand jury on charges of perjury and the presentation of false vouchers in connection with sales of equipment to the state bureau of Canada. Deputy Attorney General Edward G. Griffin, conducting the case for the state, rested the case after having called 11 witnesses. No witnesses were called by counsel for Swasey, who is manager of the General Mill and Contracting Supply Company of Albany. Justice Stanley directed that the attorney for both sides present briefs by Saturday morning.

DELAY IN SOVET HEARING

Washington, Jan. 23.—The state department hurried today, for the time being at least, presentation of evidence in support of its policy of non-recognition of the Russian Soviet government before the senate foreign relations sub-committee, which is considering Russian recognition.

WIFE RETAINS TITLE

Chicago, Jan. 23.—While Hugo Boss of New York, by defeating former U. S. Senator of San Francisco, lost to a 1,196 in a challenge match, he retained his title as world's 12th best boxer. With his last victory, he had the championship since 1912.

Resigned!

Archie Roosevelt (above), son of the former President, resigned the vice presidency of the Union Petroleum company, the export organization of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil corporation a few days ago, because of facts brought out in the probe of Teapot Dome lease, he told a senate investigating committee. The investigation is being held in connection with the leasing of the Teapot Dome oil lands.

COMPROMISE TAX PLAN UNACCEPTED

Garner Says Democrats Will Not Yield on Rates Outlined in His Proposal

Washington, Jan. 23.—The offer of Republicans of the house was and means compromise with the Democrats and work out a non-partisan tax bill remained unacceptable tonight by the Democrats while the committee proceeded with consideration of the miscellaneous rates, using the Mellon plan as a basis.

Representative Garner, Texas, speaking for the Democrats in committee, said his party would not yield on the rates outlined in the democratic tax revision plan of which he is the author until the Republicans had proposed definite terms of compromise.

Chairman Greene of the committee, who made the offer for the Republicans, indicated that while consideration of the new rates would be possible the majority members might decide upon a substitute among themselves, which could be adopted by majority vote in committee.

The Day in Washington

The new run treaty with Great Britain was signed at the state department.

The navy department announced that four lives were lost in the wreck of the cruiser Tacoma at Vera Cruz.

A Porto Rican delegation asked President Coolidge and congress to modify the island's organic law to permit more self government.

A bid for Muscle Shoals was made by the Union Carbide company of New York, it including a proposal to manufacture fertilizer.

The senate ratified the claims conventions with Mexico.

Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, again attacked former Secretary Fall and urged action on his resolution to cancel the Teapot Dome oil lease.

Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, announced he would press for amendment proceedings in the house of the Wyoming naval oil reserve to the Sinclair interests and that he would ask for special counsel to prosecute the case, independent of the department of justice.

Due to the Mexican government by American citizens of funds intended to be used for fighting purposes, it was learned, would be held by the Washington government to be contrary to the spirit, if not the letter, of the naval blockade treaty.

Liquor Treaty Between U. S. and England Signed

Washington, Jan. 23.—The double-barrelled liquor treaty with Great Britain was signed today by Secretary Hughes and Ambassador Geddes, to become effective when ratifications are exchanged. By tacit agreement, however, the two governments are expected to give the treaty some measure of immediate application in dealing with rum smuggling and ship liquor matters which may arise before ratification is completed. Under the treaty, suspected liquor smuggling craft under the British flag would be liable to search and seizure if intercepted anywhere within an hour's sailing distance from shore, the speed of the suspected vessel being the measure of distance in her case. In return for this aid in prohibition enforcement, the United States would grant to British ships the right to carry sealed stores of ship liquor within American waters anywhere on the same terms that such liquors now pass through the Panama canal. It is to run for one year at the end of which it can be terminated on three months' notice.

A summary of the treaty made public at the state department shows a provision not previously disclosed under which British vessels improperly detained or searched would be compensated for any loss or damage resulting. Such cases would be referred to a joint commission for adjudication and award.

Signing of the treaty, which officials hope will pave the way for breaking up rum fleets off the American coast and also eliminate causes for irritation between the two countries with respect to ship liquor matters, was the last official act of Ambassador Geddes. He called afterward at the White House to present his letter of recall and with the exception of one or two addresses he is scheduled to make in New York before he sails for home Saturday, his service in the United States is over. He left Washington for New York.

EXPERTS WILL GO TO BERLIN SOON

Former German Treasury Official Answers Questions as to Exportation of Capital

(By the Associated Press)

Paris, Jan. 23.—The second committee of experts investigating Germany's financial and economic situation today had before it Karl Bergmann, former under-secretary of the German treasury, who answered questions with regard to the exportation of capital from Germany.

This committee, headed by Reginald McKenna, former chancellor of the British exchequer, at the end of the day's session announced in an official communication that it purposed to go to Berlin shortly to continue its investigations in the German capital on January 31.

The first committee, headed by Brigadier General Charles G. Dawes, was engaged today in a continuation of consideration of plans for the formation of a gold bank in Germany.

The essential features for the German gold bank designed by the experts have been taken from a plan proposed by General Dawes and Owen D. Young, the American unofficial representatives. The plan is to draw into the service of the new bank gold, or the equivalent in foreign currencies, now in private hands in Germany at 1,000,000,000 gold marks.

Dr. Schmidt, it is understood, estimates the value of foreign currencies now in private hands in Germany at 1,000,000,000 gold marks.

DR. W. J. AUBRY TAKES OWN LIFE

Former Assistant Superintendent at Binghamton State Hospital Hangs Self

Albany, Jan. 23.—Dr. Wallace J. Aubry, former assistant superintendent of the state hospital at Binghamton, committed suicide in his hotel room here by hanging, according to the coroner's verdict tonight.

The body was found today in a kneeling position near the bed, with a belt loop over the head of the bed and tied in a slip knot around the doctor's neck. The coroner, who declared the man had been dead some 24 hours, said notes in his pockets indicated he had been suffering from a nervous breakdown.

Mrs. Aubry, who has been visiting her parents at Grandville, told the coroner by telephone tonight that her husband had been ill for some time but that he intended going to Montreal to visit his father, Dr. A. R. Aubry, and possibly to practice medicine in that city.

TERS OF THOUSANDS VIEW BODY OF NIKOLAI LENINE

(By the Associated Press)

Moscow, Jan. 23.—The body of Nikolai Lenin, the Bolshevik premier and probably the greatest rebel of this or perhaps any other generation against the system of society built up by the ages, lay tonight in a silver-trimmed casket on a red draped dais in the great gathering hall of the house of unions in Moscow.

Tens of thousands of persons marched solemnly passed the bier to take a last look upon the face of the man who led the Communist revolution which turned today the lives of the people of a nation of 150,000,000 and set its mark in nearly every corner of the globe.

SECOND DEATH FROM EATING FISH; 5 OTHERS WILL DIE

Rochester, Jan. 23.—The second fatality in the family of seven persons by eating improperly cooked mackerel occurred today when Mrs. Louis Schwartz, 22, died at a hospital here. Her sister, Mrs. M. Schwartz, 22, died three days ago. It was the second death in the family.

The cause of the deaths was determined by the coroner to be the result of eating mackerel which had been improperly cooked.

The family is now being cared for by the city health department.

The health department is now investigating the source of the mackerel.

LABOR DEPARTMENT HEARING CLOSED

Possible Re-establishment of Industrial Council Only Result of Complaints

(By the Associated Press)

Albany, Jan. 23.—A spirit of conciliation and an obvious desire for harmony brought to an abrupt close this afternoon the hearing which Governor Smith was conducting into charges made against the state department of labor by Associated Industries, Inc., an organization of New York state manufacturers, through its secretary and legislative agent, Mark A. Daly, of Buffalo.

After all but one of the minor charges against the administration of the workmen's compensation act in the state had fallen down under the cross examination by Daly of the governor, Arthur Sutherland, counsel for the association, was led to admit that Commissioner Bernard L. Shientag had done "pretty well" in building up an efficient labor department.

"Some delay, sometime, in some cases" was the governor's characterization of the one vague charge which remained, of the eight which had originally been filed, as he closed the inquiry with the single sentence—"The hearing is all off."

The one definite result of which the inquiry was productive developed within the last few minutes at today's session.

A request from Mr. Sutherland for an industrial council, formerly a feature of the labor department, be revived and put on an active basis, was met with enthusiasm by Governor Smith. It will be considered seriously, the governor afterward indicated, and if organized, will stand as the only monument to the efforts at proving the labor department inefficient and poorly managed.

STATE EXPERIMENT STATION WILL BE AT VASSAR COLLEGE

Poughkeepsie, Jan. 23.—Vassar college is to be the home of the new state experiment station for the study of fruit raising problems in the Hudson valley, for which the legislature last year appropriated $25,000. It was announced today. Dr. Henry Noble MacCracken, president of the college, and the trustees have agreed to lease to the state for an indefinite period, rent free, a building for a laboratory and enough lands for the needs of the station.

The station here is to be the branch of the state experiment station at Geneva, of which Dr. Roscoe Thatcher is director. Dr. Thatcher already has signed the lease, which was returned today for Dr. MacCracken's signature. It is understood that the station will be established here as soon as the laboratory can be equipped.

THREE KILLED WHEN AUTO TURNS OVER ON ICY ROAD

Kansas City, Kans., Jan. 23.—Captain Robert T. Hayes, Mrs. Hugh Broadbent and their 12-year-old son were killed today when a motor car in which they were riding turned over on the Victory highway, four miles west of here. Captain Hayes was quartermaster at the United States disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth. Mrs. Broadbent's husband is a major of cavalry.

The three were coming to Kansas City to obtain costumes for a church benefit play.

The accident occurred a short distance west of Queens Garden, a small community, where a sharp turn is in the highway. The pavement was covered with a thin coat of ice.

THREE MEN KILLED WHEN ENGINE BOILER EXPLODES

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 23.—The second of an Erie engine, hauling the morning express from Pittsburgh to Cleveland, over the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, exploded at Allegheny, Pa., today, when the train was running at 10 miles an hour.

Engineer George Clark and Fireman L. L. Kuchta, and J. R. Meade, road foreman of engines, were killed.

SHIP SALES TO MEXICO WOULD VIOLATE PACT

Spirit, If Not Letter, of Washington Limitation Agreement Would Be Broken by Citizens Selling Craft

BLOCKADE LIFTED

All Obstructions From Three Mexican Ports To Be Removed Senate Ratifies Claims Conventions

Washington, Jan. 23.—Sale to the government of Mexico by American citizens of vessels intended to be added as fighting craft to the Mexican navy would be in spirit, if not in letter, a violation of the convention of the treaty obligations of the United States, in the view of administration officials.

This attitude is understood to have been made to the Mexico City government and is expected to result in the dropping of negotiations with private American ship owners for the purchase of vessels which the Mexican government intended to use against rebel boats.

Withdraw Blockade Order.

Several elements in the Mexican situation moved toward adjustment today, Consul Wood at Vera Cruz not only reporting to the state department that the Tampico blockade had been lifted but that orders for the removal of all mines and obstructions from the ports of Frontera, Puerto Mexico, and Vera Cruz had been issued by the revolutionary authorities at Vera Cruz.

At the same time, the two claims conventions with the Obregon government, upon the basis of which the United States accorded diplomatic recognition, were ratified by the United States senate with little debate.

It is known that agents of the Mexican government have searched the harbors of the United States for privately owned vessels suitable for their purposes.

SENATORS WILL ENDEAVOR TO CANCEL TEAPOT DOME LEASE

Washington, Jan. 23.—Teapot Dome discussion was brought out of committee room today to the floor of the senate where charges even more sensational than those made by witnesses at the inquiry were lodged by senators.

Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, who has had the lead in developing the inquiry, concluded the more than three-hour debate with formal notice that he would ask the committee to recommend a resolution advising the President to present proceedings for the annulment of the Sinclair interests by former Interior Secretary Fall.

Moreover, the senator said, he would ask the committee to include in the resolution a provision for the employment of special counsel to prosecute the case independent of the department of justice by reason of the widespread "suspicion throughout the country against Attorney General Daugherty."

RAIL MANAGERS FAIL TO MEET STRIKING ENGINEERS

(By the Associated Press)

London, Jan. 23.—The expected meeting between representatives of the executive committee of the Associated Societies of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen and the railway managers at which it was hoped discussions would be renewed with a view to ending the railway strike, did not materialize today.

The railway managers met this afternoon to consider the offer of the associated societies for a truce, but their decision with regard to a discussion was deferred.

The secretary of the society, told the newspapermen that he had not heard from the managers. He added that the strike of the men of the society was becoming increasingly effective.

It is considered probable that the railway managers will meet again tomorrow to discuss the situation.

PARTIES SEEM WILLING TO COMPROMISE ON LEGISLATION

Albany, Jan. 23.—The first evidence of a desire on the part of both Republicans and Democratic leaders in the legislature to compromise on important legislation came to light tonight, when Governor Smith conferred with three Republicans and one Democrat at his residence here.

Waterpower and automobile legislation were the subjects considered tonight but all who attended the conference refused to divulge the results. The governor made it known, however, that just before tomorrow morning's legislative session he would have something to say as to the possible program which had been drawn up.

Sport Alphabet—U is for

U is for Umpire, the "1924, 1925, 1926" of the New York Giants, who did not do so well in 1923, but for whom McGraw has great hopes during the coming season. Jimmy hit .255 with the San Francisco Giants in 1923. In 1922, playing in 87 games with the Giants, he only hit .259. Now that Stengel and Cunningham are gone from the Giants, however, watch Jimmy's work in 1924.

U is for Umpire, who has been a figure in international golf for over ten years. He jumped into fame as a youngster in 1913 by defeating the two famous Englishmen, Vardon and Hay, in the play-off for the United States open title. The next year he won the National Amateur title. He had a good year in 1923, helping America win the Walker cup in England, and winning the Royal St. George cup himself, and also being the best American in the British amateur championship. Umpire was put out in the semi-finals of the National Amateur tournament of Flommoor by Marston.

U is for Umpire, who is probably the world's greatest all-around athlete. Osborn starred as a track and field man at the University of Illinois, and in 1922 set a new National championship mark in the high jump at 6'5 1/2". At the 1923 National meet at St. Louis, Chicago, he broke the world's record for the Decathlon, or all-around performance of ten events, amassing 7,350.11 points. In an exhibition at Champaign, Illinois, in November, he jumped 6'7 1/2", which is better than the world's record. He should help win for America in Paris this summer.

PRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

Naturally

Dahlen, Formerly of Cobleskill, One of World's Greatest Shortstops

"Bad Bill" An Active Player for 19 Years—Wagner and Wallace Topped Him

In considering the great shortstops of baseball history the name of Bad Bill Dahlen belongs with the top of the list. Dahlen's nickname of "Bad Bill" denoted that young William wasn't the best behaved of the venerable Anson's Cubs, but just the same Bill remained an active player for 19 years, a pretty fair indication that Bill couldn't have been so terribly bad.

Outside of Hank Wagner and Eddy Wallace, Bad Bill lasted longer than any shortstop and few ever have had anything on him for his place in playing the difficult infield position between the second and third basemen.

Dahlen went to Chicago in 1901, at the time that Anson was building up a new team to take the place of the players who departed during the Players League fight. Three kids were called the Cubs, later changed to the Cubs. Well, Bill was about the first kid out of the lot.

William Frederick went to the Cubs from the Cobleskill club of the old New York state league, where he had distinguished himself as a second baseman. He finished second to Kennedy in batting, with an average of .342 and only one base Crane topped him in the second basemen holding average.

Cap Anson started in the young New York state second basemen at third base and Bill quickly convinced Anson. Cap always was strong for the boys who could swing a mean bat.

Dahlen broke in with Chicago on the opening day of the 1901 season, the Cubs playing Pittsburgh on April 22. Bill hit a double and a triple and scored two runs in six times up and down.

In the season of 1904 Dahlen hit safely in 43 consecutive games, the second longest hitting streak in the majors. Bill started on June 20 of that season and was not stopped until August 7.

After hitting safely in 43 games Dahlen was stopped for only one day by Pitchers Fisher and Parrott of the Reds. On August 1, the very next day, he started on a fresh streak, which lasted 24 consecutive games, giving him a major league record of having hit in 67 out of 71 games in a row.

Dahlen hit .361 that season, and though he was a dependable basemen up to the last few years of his active career, he got over the 300 mark only three times. However, his lifetime batting mark over a period of 21 seasons is .275, a very fair average.

Bill's entire big league career was spent in the National league. He played nearly 2,500 games, 2,431 to be exact, in the parent organization. After the end of his playing career he managed Brooklyn from 1916 to 1917 inclusive, being the predecessor of Wilbert Robinson as chieftain of the Dodgers. Bill today mans one of the turnstiles at the Polo Grounds.

COMPANY F WINS AGAIN

Walton Guardsmen Beat Company G, Quinlan, 25 to 20, in Fast Contest.

The fast flying Company F team of Walton again took the measure of Company G in a fast 25 to 20 game played at the Delaware county village last evening. The game was rough in spots but on the whole was well played and very interesting.

REPUBLICANS OPPOSE TAX CUT

Albany, Jan. 23. — Definite Republican opposition to Governor Smith's proposal that the state income tax be cut 25 per cent which was developed at a party conference held after the day's legislative session, is taken by leaders of both houses to mean that the first struggle over the administration program feature is due soon. Unless some modifications were made in the Smith recommendation, the Republicans indicated that they could not hope to approve it, although they failed absolutely to turn down acceptance of some sort of tax reduction legislation.

CHESTNUT STREET SUPERIOR

Seventh and Eighth Grade "Speed Girls" Vanquish Academy Street Basketball.

The superior floor work and pass work of the basketball teams representing the girls of the seventh and eighth grades of the Chestnut Street school proved too much for the academy street opponents yesterday afternoon, the Chestnut streeters taking both games by overwhelming scores.

The Chestnut street eighth grade ran up 19 points while holding their academy street opponents scoreless, while the seventh grade outfit was the victor, 25 to 6.

Miss Helen Dibble has been coaching the Chestnut street girls, while Miss Goodwin has supervised the practices of the Academy street misses. Despite the fact that they have had little practice the losers put up a game fight and made their opponents work hard for every point.

In reading the scores given below it should be borne in mind that the games were played under girls' rules, the centers and guards not being allowed to go for baskets.

BASKETBALL

END ACCURATE BASKET SHOOTING

How can accuracy be developed in shooting baskets?

DR. FORREST ALLEN

Director of athletics, University of Kansas. His team won the championship in its section last year and has been undefeated for 27 straight games.

"Arch your shot" is the first and last admonition in basket shooting accuracy.

Draw an imaginary arc from your hands to about 15 inches above the center of the basket. Aim at the basket with the ball following this arc.

When "playing the board," strive to lay the ball against the backboard easily. Handle the ball as if it were an egg. The diagrammed backboard aids materially in practice as the player's eyes learn to follow the ball's path.

Rebels Near Guadalajara Said to Have Scattered—Unable to Resist Federals

(By the Associated Press)

Mexico City, Jan. 23. — President Obregon, according to press dispatches from Panjamo, has decided not to accompany the federal army in its advance upon Guadalajara, the rebel stronghold in the west. He is said to consider that, as the rebels are reported to have abandoned the city and scattered into Michoacan and Guanajuato, they will be unable to oppose the advance of General Joaquin Amaro's column.

General Obregon is said to have returned to Irapuato and thence to Culiacan, while General Amaro, Cruz, and Am-rillas proceeded against La-Piedad, in northern Michoacan, which has possibly already been occupied.

The rebels are concentrating at Acamburo, in southern Guanajuato, while General Dieguez, rebel commander in Michoacan, is believed to be still in the vicinity of Morelia. Insurgents under the command of General Rafael Buena, one of General Estrada's chief lieutenants, occupied Salvatierra, but withdrew to Acamburo upon the approach of General Gonzalo Escobar, sent to Culiacan to protect General Amaro's flank.

General Panfilo Natera is pursuing rebels who appeared in the vicinity of Pectito, a railway station near Leon, in eastern Jalisco, where they derailed and attacked an exploring train.

MY DAUGHTER WOULD CRY AT EVERYTHING

Harvest and Infallible. By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Becomes Entirely Normal

Clinton, Wisconsin. — "My daughter was in a very run-down condition, and would cry at every little thing she was weak and nervous. As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped me when I was a girl I gave it to her to build her up, and the results were so good that I could wish for every mother with growing girls would try it for these troubles girls often have. I had taken it myself before my girl was born, and she was one of the nicest babies any one could wish to have. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to women and girls and cannot praise it too highly." — Mrs. I. A. Holford, Box 48, Clinton, Wisconsin.

Mothers can depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve their daughters of those troubles they so often have. They know from experience the value of the Vegetable Compound in the treatment of these complaints and many, like Mrs. Holford, give it to their daughters.

Radio Brings College Study to Students at Home

Actual college study by radio has been started in Oregon by the state university. Certificates are issued to those who listen to a series of twelve lectures. Questions regarding the course are answered by mail. While lectures by professors are a regular feature of the programs of most of the large broadcasting stations, this is said to be the earliest effort to give a real course by wireless.

Fast Viol so Large Player Stands on Pedestal

Measuring 14 feet from tip to base, a new viol has been made by a western man, who claims it is the largest in the world. In order to play it, the musician must stand on a pedestal five feet high. The same maker constructed another of the big violins which measured 10 feet. Formerly the largest known instrument of this kind, 11 feet, 7 inches tall, was located in New York. It required two men to step the strings and the key to handle the bow.

It weighs the great end of a ton. It is estimated that 20 per cent of the orchestra's work is done with it.

Airplane With Moving Wings to Rise From Housetop

Intended for rising out of narrowly limited spaces or from the roofs of ordinary buildings, an airplane which has wings that resemble paddle wheels is being built by an inventor. These, with forward motion, will carry the machine up, down, ahead, or backward, according to the designer, who expects his craft to even stand still in mid-air without changing the direction of the wings' rotation. It gets its power from an airplane engine, which drives the propeller by means of chains.

How efficiency of workers is reduced by lost motions is being shown through detailed photographic studies. Observation of workmen of ordinary training who are said to use the same methods that have prevailed for 7000 years, and that most ancient of craftsmen, the hammer, are said to give no indication of the lost way to do work tasks in a more efficient manner. The latest of these studies is said to be the most efficient, according to the inventor, but the heavy price of the device is said to be a drawback.

Turned Posts for Home-made Furniture

The appearance of home-made furniture and other furniture can be improved by the use of turned posts, which are said to be the most efficient, according to the inventor, but the heavy price of the device is said to be a drawback.

HISTORIC FOREDOORS

Public Opinion Poll.

Senator Harrison of Mississippi, who declared against the Mellon plan for tax reduction even before its provisions were known, now complains that propaganda is giving it an unfair advantage.

What he calls propaganda is really the voice of the people, and it is a swelling chorus that is heard from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Not in 20 years have we had anything like the spontaneous demand for legislation of any kind that will compare with this cry for tax reduction along one line.

But why should this noisy conscientious members of congress? Should they not be glad to ascertain the wishes of their constituents? It is true that a very Niagara of letters and petitions is pouring into the capital, but that very fact proves that the American people are capable of taking an interest in the manner in which they are governed and taxed. — [Philadelphia Inquirer.]

Brick Work in Ancient Art.

Last week would surely have been accounted a brick one in ancient art. Masterpieces were discovered in such widely separated spots as a picture gallery in Vienna and an Italian church in London. In the capital of Austria a vase, lost since 1829, was found, while the haul in London comprised paintings by Leonardo di Credi, Sandro Botticelli and Pietro Perugino. It will not be safe to speculate on their value, however, until they have come up at auction. — [New York Herald.]

Notice to Kansas Hunters.

Please don't shoot on my farm. You might shoot me or some other dumb creature that inhabits the farm. If you must shoot, aim straight up, as nothing is flying very high on a farm just at present. — [Greenleaf Republican.]

Dawes Universally Praised.

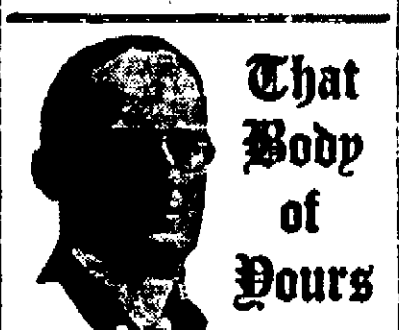

The speech of General Dawes upon the European situation has not evoked a single note of disapproval from the spokesmen of any of the nations interested whose standing is sufficiently high to deserve consideration. It was opined at first that France might not like what the candid American said, now it is declared on the authority of Hilaire Belloc, than whom no one is more familiar with French sentiment, that France thoroughly approves the general tenor of that speech. — [Philadelphia Record.]

The Tallest Chimney.

The tallest smokestack in the world is said to be in western Montana, where it has been erected of specially made brick by a copper company to carry off smoke and gases. It is 30 feet higher than the Washington monument and its diameter is so great that the great stone shaft could be placed inside of it. — [Providence Journal.]

Fortune That Was No Fortune.

A man who lived at one of the Mills hotels in New York, paying thirty cents a day for his room and fifty cents for his food, died the other day, leaving a hundred thousand dollars to heirs whom he had not seen for years. He is not the first presumably poor man who has had money of fortune. — [Philadelphia Inquirer.]

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

THE SENSITIVE HEART.

Your heart has been beating rapidly and violently. You have thought you had some form of heart disease and have gone hurriedly to your physician for an examination.

After the examination, he assures you that your heart is absolutely sound, and suggests that you forget about it.

You are satisfied for a short time, and then again your heart seems to be beating very rapidly. You count your pulse and find that your heart is running a hundred beats to the minute instead of 70 or 80.

You become quite excited, and when you try it again you find it beating about 120.

There must be something wrong. Well, a heart beating that fast is not normal, but it doesn't necessarily mean that there is anything wrong with the heart itself.

You may have what is called a sensitive heart. Sensitive to various things, such as mental excitement, the use of tea, coffee, or light alcoholic drinks. It does not place here those hearts affected by the pressure of gas from the stomach.

It may be just the excitement of a caller on the telephone. Just an ordinary slight exertion performed suddenly, such as getting up from a reclining position, and going to the door or toilet.

Now the first thing to remember is that the cases of imaginary heart disease greatly outnumber the cases of actual heart disease.

It is not unusual for nervous or hysterical people to have these rapid hearts. Also in very thin people whose blood is not rich enough, there is often a tendency toward this sensitivity of the heart.

The condition is disagreeable but is not dangerous.

Now what to do about it? If the rapidity is due entirely to the feeling that there is something actually wrong with the heart, then the only sensible thing to do is to see your family doctor, and get the matter cleared up.

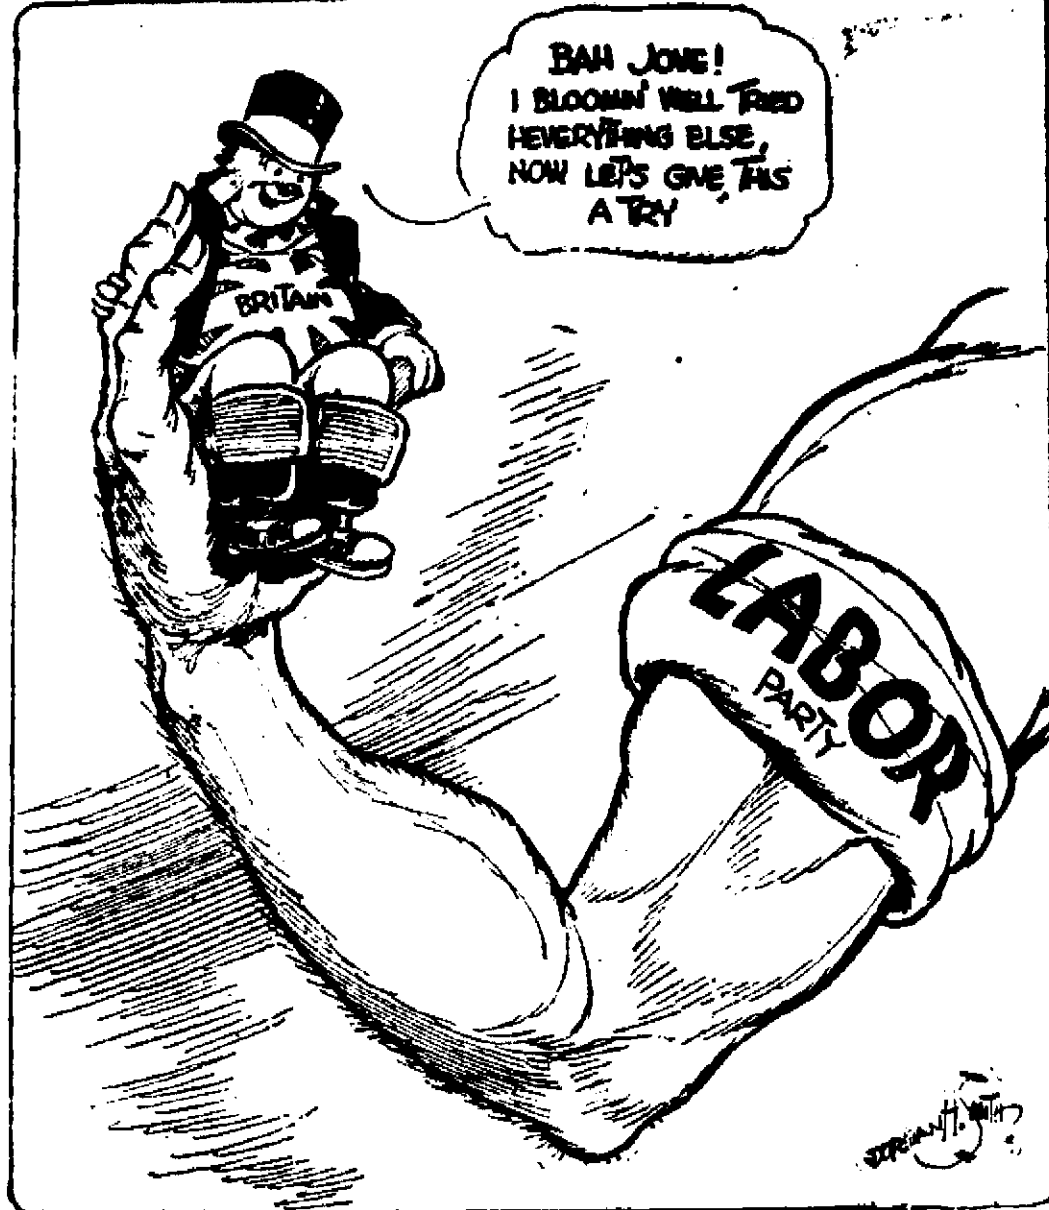

Do these sensitive hearts need drugs? No.

The usual treatment during one of these spells when the heart is beating rapidly is to give it absolute rest. This is beneficial very often, but as a matter of fact most of these rapid hearts are slowed down—not by rest—but by actual work, exercise.

Regular outdoor walking or slow running will usually bring these hearts down to a normal number of beats per minute.

TWENTY AND THIRTY YEARS AGO

Days of Old Recalled by Items Clipped From The Star File.

Jan. 23, 1904.

E. D. Farmer Woman's Relief corps held a meeting at G. A. R. hall last evening at which arrangements were made to celebrate the fifteenth anniversary of the corps the evening of January 29.

The Altoona basketball team, composed of Loretta Burke, captain, Agnes Odell, Jessie Turner, Florence Phillips, Anna Mahon and Blanche Rowe defeated the girls of the A. C. C. gymnasium of Cooperstown 22 to 9 last evening at the Oneonta armory. Particularly noticeable was the work of Captain Loretta Burke, who skillfully threw the pigskin in the basket three times.

The following will take part in the Story of the Reformation, soon to be produced at the Oneonta theatre: William R. Capwell, Rev. G. E. Huntley, A. E. Ceperley, Brewster Moore, Rev. T. F. B. Smith, Rev. W. H. H. Smith, Rev. W. H. H. Smith.

Arthur Golden, Walter Elwood, Rev. C. S. Pendleton, Page Baker, A. R. Benedict, Jesse Wicks, F. Lewis, S. Scott, William, Walter Triple, Gus McLaur, Charles Vandusen, C. Brutt, Frank McFee, H. D. Alden, Carl Moore, Jesse Millard, Frederick Smith, Mrs. J. A. Gilliland, Mrs. L. H. Townsend, Hannah Hayes, Mrs. Vaude Walker, Mrs. Herman Whittehoff, Mrs. U. A. Ferguson, Mrs. O. A. Miller, Mrs. A. H. Leventright, Mrs. S. DeRonde, Mrs. C. Brutt and the Misses Moore, Pardee, Wilbur, Montgomery, Bruce, Coy, Glenn, Beebe, Brainard, Purchell, Shaffer, Bean and Beach.

Miss Ethel Rowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Rowe, will entertain a party of her little friends at the home of her parents at the corner of Center street and Ford avenue tomorrow evening.

A reporter noticed yesterday on Mechanic street, at one time, seven loaded sleighs, besides those which were in the rear of at the sides of buildings, quite a chance from two years ago.

The recent religious awakening in Otsego resulted in a meeting being called in that village last evening to organize a Y. M. C. A. Thirty members were secured and the following officers elected: President, Tiller Blakely; vice president, A. Seaman; secretary, C. Hump; treasurer, C. Well.

WHAT KIWANISANS THINK

Kiwanis Magazine Says Kind Things of Chamber of Commerce.

The editor of Kiwanis magazine is discussing the necessity of co-operation between Kiwanis organizations and Chambers of Commerce.

"When it comes to co-operation with other organizations not along similar lines with Kiwanis we have been in the van. Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade have ever found in Kiwanis a handy tool with which to work out their plans for a city. Almost in every case a good Kiwanian is an active member of the local Chamber of Commerce and working for the betterment of the Chamber through his Kiwanian activities."

"In our own small communities you seldom find a Kiwanian who is not a member of his local Chamber of Commerce and helping that body to work out the best interest of the city. Hand in hand, with perfect harmony and absolutely motionless in thousands of towns, Chambers of Commerce and Kiwanis clubs are marching forward."

West Haverhill Man Killed.

Ernest F. Friboe of West Haverhill has been captured by Sergeant Harry Decker, in charge of the local U. S. army recruiting station, for the coast artillery corps. He will sail on February 3 from the army base at Brooklyn for the Pacific coast.

D. & H. FOLLIES OF '24

Dates for Albany Presentation Announced as February 18, 19 and 20.

All who have enjoyed the theatrical productions of the Delaware and Hudson company Athletic association in the past will be interested in the announcement that, beginning Monday evening, February 18, "The D. & H. Follies '24" will be the attraction at the Capitol theatre in Chapel street, Albany, for three consecutive evenings. To those who have not had the pleasure of witnessing these offerings let it be said that their popularity has occasioned the arrangement of an additional evening each year in order to accommodate the crowds of the Capitol district. This fact constitutes a bona fide endorsement of the excellent character and professional quality of the production, and particularly so when the number of counter attractions in the city are taken into consideration.

The advance seat sale opens on Monday, January 21. Mail orders, accompanied by money order and addressed to W. F. Dollard, chairman ticket committee, D. & H. Follies '24, will be accepted.

son-building, Albany, will be honored in the order in which received. The prices are as follows: Boxes, $2.50; orchestra and mezzanine, $2.75; balcony, $2.20, $1.45 and $1.10; tax included. — [D. & H. Bulletin.]

No announcement has been made, but it will be hoped that the company will later pay a visit to Oneonta.

Gives "Kumback" Party.

Fred N. VanWie entertained a few friends at a duck dinner at his residence on West street Tuesday evening, the guests being fellow medicinal golfers in part at least. After a fine dinner the party indulged in a few rounds of the parlor putting game, using a new device known as Kumback, which affords an opportunity for the fans who cannot get the game off their minds. Kumback parties are destined to be popular among the "faithful" at least.

Lumbering in New York State.

A huge tract of land is being cleared of its lumber at Beaver River, in Herkimer county. The state permitted the clearing off of this tract as a huge dam is to be built for water storage. About sixty cars per day will be shipped when operations get under way. The wood will be used for pulp.

The NEW ESSEX A SIX

Built by Hudson Under Hudson Patents

The smoothness and long life for which Hudson is famous is now shared by Essex. It is an important advantage to bear in mind.

So also is the fact that the Essex "Six" possesses other notable Hudson qualities. It has the same type clutch, the same axles, the same provisions for long life and easy care of all working parts. Essex reliability is retained. Essex economy of fuel, oil and tires is greatly enhanced.

We ask this test—take a ride.

You will enjoy it—that's certain. See how handling is simplified. Starts at the touch of your toe. Steers easily as a bicycle. And how easy gears shift. Easy to park too. Its low center of gravity makes safe and comfortable driving on all roads at all speeds.

Simple to keep in first class condition. Requires little attention. Lubrication for the most part is done with an oil can.

You, too, will say: "The New Essex provides ideal transportation."
